State of the City talks City manager meets with Fairfield organizations

Fairfield, California (Thursday, February 11, 2016)—Fairfield City Manager, David White, looks forward to sharing exciting updates and plans with the community over the coming months. Beginning March 1 and continuing through August this year, your community group or organization can request a meeting with the city manager to discuss the State of the City.

White will be available to attend one of your group meetings to provide an update on the City's financial status, an overview of the City's accomplishments in 2015, as well as the City Council's goals for Fairfield in 2016. These 30-minute talks are an opportune time for community members to ask questions and learn more about the status of the city from their city manager.

"Connecting with the community is one of the best parts of my job," says White. "Through informal Community Connection meetings, attending events, and routine State of the City talks, I get to meet with people, exchange ideas, and share the exciting things that are happening in Fairfield."

If you would like the city manager to attend one of your organization's meetings, please schedule an appointment with the City Manager's Office Assistant, Amber Alexander, at (707) 428-7400 or aalexander@fairfield.ca.gov.
